Dueling Doubles

The voice on the loudspeaker was booming, “Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to the U.S. Open.”

The crowd was clapping and cheering as we walked onto the tennis court.

“Ladies and gentlemen, please welcome the world’s leading doubles team—Toocool and Gemma Jones.”

We waved to the crowd. It felt great walking onto center court—even if I had to have Gemma for a partner. I wouldn’t let her spoil this magnificent moment. I was a true professional.

I looked around the stadium. The flowers were perfect—except the ones Dog was chewing.
