Back on Deck

I was glad to see the sun come up. It had been a long night. I wanted to get back on the yacht. I was in the middle of an important race.

I was captain of The Boomerang—the greatest yacht that had ever raced.

I built it myself. It only took a couple of hours.

I used a mop for the mast. Then I made an amazing sail from an old sheet that was hanging on the clothesline.

Most of the yachts in the race had a crew of ten or more sailors. All I had were Dog and Bert the Rooster.
