Chapter 1

Tower Duty

I loved being in charge of the megaphone.

“Attention all swimmers. Please swim in the safe area.”

It was my first day as a lifeguard. I was in the tower by myself.

Well, I wasn't quite by myself. I did have Scott with me. I was the lifeguard, though. If anybody needed saving, it would be Toocool to the rescue.

Scott was still training with the junior lifeguards. He'd probably be there for a few more years.

I'd gotten my junior certification in no time. They said I was their best student ever.

Now I was ready to become the best lifeguard ever.
