

Where Are You Going?

Before Reading	During Reading	After Reading
Q1: What do you see on the cover? A1: I see a boy and girl going somewhere. Q2: Where do you think they are going? A2: I think the boy is walking his dog to the park. I think the girl is going to the beach.	Q1: What will the girl see, feel, and hear? A1: She will see water. She will feel the sand. She will hear splashing. Q2: What will the girl taste and smell? A2: She will taste lemonade and smell hot dogs.	Q1: Where did the boy think the girl was going? A1: The boy thought she was going to the beach. Q2: Why did he think she was going to the beach? A2: Because she talked about things you see, feel, hear, taste, and smell at the beach.

Where Are You Going?
© 1994 Creative Teaching Press Inc.
Written by Kimberlee Graves and
Rozanne Lanczak Williams
Illustrated by Ann Iosa

Revised Edition © 2017 Creative Teaching Press Inc.
Illustrated by Gwé
Art Director: Moonhee Pak
Project Director: Stacey Faulkner

Published in the United States of America by:
Creative Teaching Press Inc.
6262 Katella Ave.
Cypress, CA 90630

Where Are You Going?

"I'm going where I can see the water."

“I’m going where I can feel the sand.”