

Houses

Before Reading	During Reading	After Reading
Q1: This is a book about some houses people live in around the world. How many houses do you see on the cover? A1: I see five houses. Q2: How are the houses the same? How are the houses different? A2: All the houses have a door. All of the houses are places where people live. All the houses have a roof. Two of the houses have windows.	Q1: What are houses made of? A1: Some houses are made of thatch. Some houses are made of brick. Some houses are made of adobe. Some are wood, and some are tents. Some houses are made of bamboo. Q2: Why do you think some houses are built on stilts? A2: I think some houses are built on stilts to keep it up above the water.	Q1: Let's look at pages 14-15. Which kind of house is just right for you? A1: Answers will vary. Q2: Why do you think houses around the world are so different? A2: Possible answers: People build houses using the materials they have around them. They build houses to protect them from the weather where they live.

Houses

United States

Japan

There are big houses.

Mongolia

Zimbabwe

S There are little houses.